Sample wine and beef master Neil Prentice's much-applauded Moondarra wagyu when he hosts a special meal at Sydney's Fix St James. On Thursday, May 26, diners have the opportunity to acquaint themselves with tipples from his Prentice, Moondarra and Holly's Garden labels as he talks about the pagan and biodynamic approaches used in his winemaking. Sceptics and supporters alike can delight in questioning and conversing with him, while dining on head chef Sam Bennett's specially designed menu. Cost is $115 a person and reservations can be made through the venue. Tel: 02 9232 2767. CS
